Miss Mary Lazaruk, student nurse, died at the St. Eugene hospital at Cranbrook two weeks prior to the completion of her three-year training course. She was but 22 years of age, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lazaruk, of Natal, where internment took place under Rebekah Lodge auspices.

ANNUAL MEETING RATEPAYERS

The scheduled annual meetings of ratepayers of the Town of Blaimore, and Blaimore School District No. 628, were held in the Oliva hall on Friday night last, and as usual very poorly attended—reason probably that they are perfectly satisfied with the work of those entrusted with the handling of their affairs.

W. H. Chappell was called upon to act as chairman of the town meeting, and accepted.

The auditor's report and financial statements were submitted and approved, as were also the reports of the mayor, secretary-treasurer and committee chairman.

A resolution was passed, commending the mayor and council for the very efficient manner in which the affairs of the town had been administered during the year just closed, also thanking Mr. Chappell for the manner in which he handled this meeting.

Mr. Chappell was again prevailed upon to preside over the school meeting, at which various questions were submitted, mainly in connection with the new school building. All questions were satisfactorily answered, and a resolution was unanimously adopted, thanking the school board for their work, also Mr. Chappell for presiding at the annual meeting.

Statements of affairs of the town and school district as presented were as appeared in the January 24th issue of The Enterprise.

BELGIAN SOLDIERS CALLED TO COLORS WILL BEGIN TRAINING NEXT MONTH

When Belgian nationals in Canada, now being called to the colors of their country, report for training next month at one of the training centres in Military District No. 3, they will be clothed in Canadian battle dress, distinguished by a "Belgian" sleeve badge. They will receive Canadian rates of pay and will be fed Canadian army rations, but will be trained by Belgian officers and non-commissioned officers.

By arrangement with Belgian government representatives in Canada, the department of national defence at Ottawa is giving assistance in various forms. The movement here is part of a world-wide effort to bring all Belgians living in any territory not occupied by the enemy together for training and subsequent incorporation in their army. The Belgian government, temporarily in London, is paying all costs. Compulsory enlistment is applied only to Belgians between 19 and 25 years of age, but volunteers between 16 and 35 will be accepted for training under the same conditions.

Valentine parties may this year be held on the lawns.

The mass meeting of miners of the district Michel to Bellevue, scheduled to have been held at Coleman on Jan. 26th, but postponed, will be held at Coleman on Sunday next, with grand parade at 1.30 p.m.

Edward Gamacho, of Mount'n Mill, has had a pleasant surprise in the receipt of a birthday gift of his fare and expenses for a trip to his boyhood home in Ontario. It is forty-five years since Mr. Gamacho came to Alberta, and has not since been back. He left Sunday last and will visit his old home and relatives in Saul's Ste. Marie, Sudbury and Algoma, Ontario.

BLAIRMORE AVOIDS ELECTION

Nominations to fill three vacancies occurring on the town council resulted in D. Emis, Joe Brobosky and James Gray being returned by acclamation; and A. Bossetti, Martin Krkosky, James Lloyd and Dominic Campo returned by the same procedure to fill vacancies on the board of school trustees. Campo will complete the unexpired term of Joseph Krkosky, who resigned several months ago to enter military service.

Mayor Williams was unopposed, and will serve a third term of two years.

The personnel for 1941 will be: Mayor—Enoch Williams.

Council—Evan Morgan, R. Peresini, Delbert Emis, G. W. Eriksson, J. Brobosky and James Gray.

School Trustees—A. Bossetti, S. G. Bannan, M. Krkosky, J. H. Lloyd and Dominic Campo.

It will be noted from the foregoing list that Blaimore town and school will be operated by a truly cosmopolitan aggregation, representing at least English, Welsh, Canadian, Italian, Norwegian (or Swede), Czechoslovakian and Irish. And at that, there is greater unity in these august bodies than Hitler or Mussolini would ever hope for in Europe.

During the past several years, the affairs of the town and school have been carried on capably and well under similar organizations. Their "Record Tells The Story," for it is doubtful if any town in the Dominion of Canada of Blaimore's age and size can present a better showing. Neither town nor school district is encumbered by debt or any other form of indebtedness. All obligations have been faithfully and honestly met, including all contracted interest; and the ratepayers can safely look forward to a continuance of such administration.

At the next regular meeting of the council, standing committees will be named.

PLEADED GUILTY TO UNUSUAL CHARGE

A local man appeared before P. G. Thomas, P. M., on the following unusual charge—that he did by means of certain false statements, to wit, inform the Premier of the province of Alberta by phone, and S. W. Thurston, R.C.M.P., Turner Valley, by word of mouth and by signed statement, that he (the accused) had had stolen from his workshop near High River on Oct. 18th, 1940, the following articles: one cylinder re-borer said to be valued at $643; six open-end wrenches; contrary to the truth. He caused officers and constables of the R.C.M.P., maintained at public expense for public benefit, to devote their time and services to investigation of the said false allegations, thereby temporarily depriving the public of the services of these public officers, and rendering liege subjects of the King liable to suspicion, accusation and arrest, and in so doing did unlawfully effect a public mischief.

The charge was laid by Constable W. G. H. Cook, R.C.M.P. The defendant pleaded guilty, and was fined $50 and costs or in default 60 days imprisonment. A period of six weeks was given in which to pay the fine.—High River Times.

Mrs. W. Knight underwent a surgical operation at the local hospital a few days ago.

Aberhart's idea of "funny money" has got to be the biggest joke foundation in Canada.

Born at Nelson hospital on January 17th to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, a daughter.

Rev. E. B. Arrol underwent a tonsillectomy operation on Tuesday, which was reported successful.

COLEMAN TO SPONSOR CIVIC ELECTIONS

Four nominations were made at Coleman to fill two vacancies on the town council, and five names were put up to contest three vacancies on the school board.

Candidates for council are: Wilfrid Dutil, H. Sherratt, George Jenkins and Dave Holly; and for school trustees: W. Fraser, P. Sharpe, Max Stigler, E. Churla and G. Evans. Elections will take place on Monday next.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Miss Agnes Hutton was "at home" to a large number of her friends prior to her leaving for Goderich, Ontario, where she is to be married to Mr. Alexander McDowell. Her many friends expressed wishes for her future happiness. During the first part of the evening tea was poured by Mrs. B. Richards, cousin of Miss Hutton, and Mrs. G. Coupland, aunt of the guest of honor, poured for the latter part of the evening. Misses Mildred Fisher and Susie Boyle acted as servers.

Private J. Dowson, of the Edmonton Forestry Corps, spent forty-eight hours' leave at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin, of Lethbridge, spent Tuesday visiting the former's parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Irwin.

Little Tommy Dowson met with a very painful accident while playing with older boys on Sunday evening, when his arm was dislocated at the shoulder and broken. At last report he was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

Mrs. C. W. Johnson was called to Cranbrook on Wednesday, owing to her mother, Mrs. W. Blinston, having met with an accident in which she sustained a broken wrist and injury to the other.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Goodwin were week-end visitors to Calgary. They were accompanied to the city by Miss Margaret McAndrew, who had been visiting with them.

I PLEDGE—

As His Majesty the King recently so truly remarked, "This time we are all in the Front Line," and in order that those who are privileged to stay at home to do their front-line fighting, the Government of Canada has inaugurated a remarkable campaign whereby every citizen of Canada will be invited during this month to take their stand for their country's honor and to pledge their fullest support by every means in their power to assist in winning the war.

Several ways of doing this are available, the very best being to join the Great National Savings Plan—join up in the army of money-finders so that our boys of every arm of the service may be assured of ALL assistance from every angle.

Pledge our savings to hasten victory, buy war savings certificates to the full extent of your ability (one can purchase up to $600 only in any one year) and be satisfied in knowing full well that the Canadian government stands behind each of these SAVINGS and will return your money with compound interest in seven and one-half years. Lend! Lend! and thus get well up "in the front line."

A U boat has sunk a ship carrying 500,000 doses of the new American "flu vaccine enroute to Britain. This is regarded as a major medical disaster.

ONLY UNITED STRENGTH AND ENERGY WILL WIN FREEDOM SAYS RALSTON

Summing up impressions of his recent visit to England, the Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence, told a Dominion-wide radio audience on Sunday night that the days and weeks ahead call for the most united strength and unfaltering energy which Canadians can muster. He said the reason the fight for freedom will be won will be only because Canada, as well as Britain and all those associated with her will stop at nothing which can effectively be done to ensure the overthrow of Nazism which threatens the world.

A TRIBUTE TO BADEN-POWELL FROM A CANADIAN INTERNMENT CAMP

A tribute to the late Lord Baden-Powell from an unexpected source was that from an Austrian Rover Scout in a Canadian internment camp because of his nominal German citizenship. Wrote the Austrian Scout: "None of us can think of him as gone, but as one of the few exceptional men whose life continues beyond their earthly existence through their timeless greatness. He was the outstanding quality of remaining young right up to the last as he lived with and for youth. . . . I know I am speaking on behalf of all Scouts interned in Canada in conveying to you our deep felt sympathy at our common loss, and reaffirming our resolve to carry on in all circumstances and in solidarity with our 'Yellow Scouts' everywhere. I should be very grateful if you could transmit our message to Lady Baden-Powell in her sad bereavement as well as to the Imperial Headquarters in London."

Safety Work

The Importance Of Keeping Badly Needed Men At Work
Safety work in Canada's war industries should not be "delegated" to the rumble seat," Senator Charles B. Howard of Sherbrooke, Que., said in an address at the 18th annual meeting of the Province of Quebec Safety League.

Senator Howard urged the league to help the war effort "by increasing our educational efforts to keep badly needed men at work in industry, wives in their homes, children in the schools, so that accidents will not sabotage Canada's participation in this great crusade for world democracy."

The Liberal senator said some people believe that safety work should be cut off until after the war. "No more about life could be entertained. The safety of a nation is as important as its health and morale to the welfare of its people, while accidents retard our march to victory."

Turkey Buys Locomotives

Has Taken Over 22 Built For War Service In France

Twenty-two locomotives, built in Glasgow for war service in France, have been purchased with other equipment by the Turkish Ministry of Communications. They are similar to the locomotives introduced five years ago by the London, Midland and Scottish Railway. With them a number of railway wagons, built also for France, are being sent on from Britain to Turkey.

Home Nursing Classes

Canadian Red Cross Society Commences A New Service

Saskatchewan Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society has commenced a new service for the people of the province, that of Home Nursing Classes. Roseworth has already made a decided success in instructing two classes of young women. There is no fee or other cost for the course and it is hoped that many classes will take advantage of the opportunity.

Women interested should organize themselves into groups of fifteen or twenty and procure the voluntary service of an instructor, who must be a nurse of experience, to give the series of twelve lectures and demonstrations. There must also be a secretary-treasurer for each class. On report of such organization to the provincial headquarters of the society at Regina a manual for each pupil will be forwarded at a charge of 25 cents each, and an attendance card provided.

The Red Cross does not issue a diploma or certificate, since the course does not qualify one sufficiently for any type of professional duty, but upon conclusion of the course and return of the attendance card an acknowledgment, signed by His Excellency The Governor-General, President of the Canadian Red Cross Society, will be issued.

The course is a good one. It has been commended and enjoyed in all parts of the country and found highly useful.

HAPPY LOVE

WINDFALL

Friends Love Tea-Leaf Readings
What a fascinating fortune she finds for him in the tea-leaves! "A ring like a daisy—happy love! A triangle—a windfall of unexpected fortune!"

He'll ask her for another tea date, you may be sure; indeed, every one enjoys the girl who can tell clever fortunes, whether by tea-leaves, cards or in other ways. She gives a gathering a dash of mystery, excitement. And it's all very simple. A little home practice and you can be a full-fledged gypsy.

To read tea-leaves, just drink your cup dry, put it upside down and then turn it around three times, making a wish. Now, what do you see? Look at a list of tea-leaf symbols and you'll find these three leaves in a line mean your wish comes true, the chair means an unexpected guest, a watch-rival. Card fortunes are fun too! You have your listeners agog as you disburse the love of a look from the Eight of Clubs, a proposal in the Two of Hearts.

A Popular Weakness

Story About People Who Refused To Back Up Complaints

It is related there was once a preacher who kept a large book labelled, "Complaints for Members." But it had nothing but blank pages. If a complainant came to tell faults of another, he would say: "Well, I have a complaint book here and I'll write down what you say. Then I'll take the matter up with the official board." But that was as far as he got. None of them would ever have their complaint put in black and white, and after five years the pages were still blank. People don't like being pinned to accusations.

SLIMLY FANTELED COTTON DRESS

By Anne Adams

Of course you can look slim—no matter what the scale may say. For Anne Adams believes that slenderness is a matter of lines rather than pounds, and she proves it smartly with Pattern 4679. Whether you're size thirty-six or fifty-two, you'll find this simple-style becoming. What could be more graceful than the long front panel, slightly tapered through the waistline. Curving waist seams are cut low to give perfect fit and allow extra fullness through the skirt. The pretty V-shaped neckline is scalloped or straight-edged; the curving yokes are very flattering. The back is simply made, with a darted waistline. See in the small view how striking the front panel and optional sleeve tabs would be in contrast fabric.

Pattern 4679 is available in women's sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 36 takes 3½ yards 35 inch fabric and ¾ yard lace.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Pavilion Taken To Moscow
The Soviet Pavilion which stood at the New York World's Fair in 1939, has been reopened as a permanent exhibit in Moscow's park of rest and culture. Five freighters carried the exhibit, weighing 7,000 tons, across the Pacific to Vladivostok, from where it was sent in 40 freight cars across Siberia to Moscow.

One of the secrets of success is to know when and how to change two men's minds, your own and the other fellow's.

THINKA OF THE REPUTATION

Tests Being Made

To Determine Value Of Plastic Fuselages For Airplanes

Tests of plastic airplane fuselages being carried out at Bendix Field, N.J., may radically alter and substantially advance Canada's program of aircraft production, a munitions and supply department source said at Ottawa.

It is expected a complete fuselage will soon be ready for flying. If tests prove the value of this new system of manufacture Canada will at once arrange for production in the Dominion.

The test fuselages are for the Anson trainer model, the manufacture of which in Canada, for the Empire Air Training Plan, has been beset by difficulties.

Ralph P. Bell, director of aircraft production, visited the aircraft research laboratories at Bendix Field recently and reported a successful test of an Anson fuselage "nosed" made of plastic materials.

Two metal Anson fuselages were used as the aftermath of the war. If the flying tests are successful it is expected about 100 plastic fuselages will be bought there as an experimental order while plans for manufacture in Canada are being completed.

This type of fuselage is much lighter than the metal fuselages now in use, is quicker to make, and the cost will be about one third of the metal type.

Fittings will have to be altered for attachment to wood or plastic instead of metal tubing for which they are now designed.

Aftermath Of War

Senator Meighen Is Doubtful About Universal Socialism

Claims that universal socialism would be the aftermath of the war were disputed by Senator Arthur Meighen in an address at Toronto at the annual meeting of the Federation for Community Service.

"We hear so often that we are at a juncture of world history, that a new era is sure to dawn, that there is to be a veering of our economic system," said the Conservative leader in the upper house.

"What is this new world order? If the dictators win, the answer is obvious. But if we all hope and trust and pray, the democracies are successful, there is considerable doubt as to the distinguishing feature of the day.

"If property, profit, the reward of toil, the fundamental tenets of the human race to gain, to acquire, to have, to reach somewhere, is taken away, then I for one do not feel that we have anything worth fighting for."

Man Of The Century

Time, the news magazine, has named Winston Churchill as the "man of the year." It would save a lot of work and printing if they just named him man of the century now, for there is little chance of anybody exceeding the exploits of this leader for some time to come.

Glycerine, a little known chemical, has a wide variety of uses, especially around the home. With tincture of iodine it helps deep wounds; with tannic acid it soothes dogs' tender feet; with a little formalin it preserves fish bait.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 9

THE CHRISTIAN ATTITUDE TOWARDS POSSESSIONS

Golden Text: Ye cannot serve God and mammon. Luke 16:13.

Lesson: Luke 16.

Devotional reading: Isaiah 58:6-11.

Explanations and Comments

The Parable of Dives and Lazarus, Luke 16:19-31. After this rebuke about the use of wealth, and this parable is his direct answer to the scoffing of the Pharisees. The Latin word for "rich man" is Dives, and it is convenient to call this "certain rich man" by that name. Dives was clad in purple and fine linen, his outer garment was dyed purple with the liquid obtained from the shell-fish murex. You recall that Lydia, the first convert to Christianity in Europe, was "a seller of purple." And his inner garment was made from a sort of flax that grew on the banks of the Nile, so finely woven as to be almost transparent. "Purple and fine linen" is a phrase used to this day for luxury and ostentation. And he fared sumptuously every day.

Lazarus, a beggar, covered with leishmanic sores, lay at Dives' gate, longing in vain for even the crumbs that fell from the latter's table, but the only attention he received was from writhed dogs that roamed the streets as scavengers, who licked his sores. The suggestion is either that they were kinder than his rich man or that they increased his misery by rasping his sores.

It is not stated that the man of purple and fine linen saw the beggar at his gate. It may not even have occurred to him, personally, that just outside his palace lay a Lazarus who would be grateful for crumbs from the other's table. If ignorance were justification for neglect, then no blame attached to Dives. Ah, but as the sequel declares, Dives ought to have known. Who shall excuse him or us for failing to find out? To know a hundred things and urgent things about a city's need; to understand its traffic problem and its housing problem; to watch its treasury against the wolves of graft; and not to know the squalor, the hunger, the bitterness of its poor, is incurable. (George Clark Peck).

In time it came to pass that Dives died, because of overfeeding and over-drinking, and Lazarus, too, died, may suppose from undernourishment. Lazarus' funeral was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom.

Mimous News

Barbarous Powers May Revert To The Use Of Gas
An ominous bit of news has come out of the Orient. A Chungking despatch says that on Jan. 10 the Japanese navy for the first time in the war with China used mustard gas in an engagement with the Chinese forces.

This may be a portent. It is to be borne in mind that Japan has been setting examples for its European partners in certain aspects of the war—45, for instance, in proclaiming its intention of establishing what it chooses to call "a new order." Japan, in this use of gas, may be giving notice that the barbarous powers are now beginning to feel the stress of the war, intend to revert to the use of gas from which the Axis powers have abstained in their wars of aggression except in Abyssinia, where it was employed on a large scale.

It is certain that no considerations of decency and humanity that Italy and Germany have abstained from the use of this weapon. There is only one reply to the use of gas, and that is retaliation in kind. Fear of this has operated as a deterrent to date; but in their present mood of desperation, the Axis powers may think that if it were used on a large scale in a surprise attack, they would gain at least an initial advantage.

The news from Japan will doubtless act as a warning in Great Britain that gas masks must again become the inseparable companion of all citizens. This was the inflexible rule at the beginning of the war; and it would appear to be time to revive and enforce it—Winnipeg Free Press.

Education In Britain

5,000,000 Children Are Registered For Schools In England

And Wales
Despite air raids and other war conditions, more than 5,000,000 children are registered for school instruction in England and Wales, a Board of Education survey disclosed. The survey, cited as showing that "pessimism and despair are unjustified," set forth that fewer than 250,000 of the children were enrolled on a less-than-full-time basis.

Total registration in elementary schools was 4,600,000 and in secondary schools 413,000.

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

ABOUT SPINACH

The Popeye jokes about spinach are not entirely without foundation, judging by a chart recently issued by the Ontario Provincial Department of Health, which shows that spinach is still the most generous source of iron for human diet. A mere half-cupful of the cooked vegetable will supply one fourth of the daily quota needed by a child, and one-third of that necessary to an adult.

However, as few children—or adults either for that matter—are so fond of spinach that they can eat it every day, other sources must be found. Prunes are about the next best bet. Five of these, cooked, yield about half as much iron as does the half-cupful of spinach.

A medium sized baked potato, a slice of cooked meat, an egg or eight dates are all of about equal value, each yielding about one tenth of the child's daily supply.

Raisins are good, too, but they're a long way below spinach in the scale of values, while oatmeal has only about a tenth of the value of the latter, quantity for quantity. Surprisingly, a slice of white bread or a glass of milk contributes practically nothing to the iron ration.

Contribution From Ulster

People Of Northern Ireland Raise $50,000,000 For British Navy
Ulster recently raised the magnificent sum of $50,000,000 in a "War Weapons Week" campaign to buy a flotilla of destroyers for the British Navy. This represents approximately $26 per head of the population of Northern Ireland and gives further proof, if any were needed, that the loyal people of Ulster are "King's men."

The outcome of "War Weapons Week" is not only a practical demonstration of the patriotism of the people of Northern Ireland but an example and an inspiration to Canadians. The much-needed war vessel will go forth to fight, bearing the names of counties and towns of Northern Ireland; and who knows but they may be useful in protecting neutral Ireland? The men who are risking their own lives are backed up by the money of the names of counties and towns of Northern Ireland; and who knows but they may be useful in protecting neutral Ireland? The men who are risking their own lives are backed up by the money of the names of counties and towns of Northern Ireland; and who knows but they may be useful in protecting neutral Ireland? The men who are risking their own lives are backed up by the money of the names of counties and towns of Northern Ireland; and who knows but they may be useful in protecting neutral Ireland?

All classes of the community shared in the week's effort, which was a striking vindication of the voluntary spirit. The subscribers offered their money realizing that whatever sacrifices may be involved they are as nothing compared with those made by the men serving with the fighting forces. Ulster has demonstrated to the world that she is behind Britain to the last man and the last dollar in her great struggle to overthrow the powers of evil and darkness.—The Toronto Globe and Mail.

The Only Course

Britain Will Fight To End Rather Than Submit To Slavery

Viccount Simon, British lord chancellor, said in an address inaugurating a local war weapons week "We have but one course before us. . . . To persist until victory is ours." "With the spectacle across the channel of what happens to countries and peoples who do not resist Hitler," Viccount Simon said, "there is not one of us who would not sacrifice all that is ours rather than that such a catastrophe overtake this home of freedom."

"Eighty million Germans are living like slaves because there is no German law to protect them and no German court dare interfere with the edicts of the bullies in power."

WILL HE TAX WAR BONDS?

We are wondering what the attitude of the government of Alberta is towards war bonds. The premier recently suggested that all bonds be taxed one per cent. Does he include in this category the war bonds and savings certificates now being issued? If so, he had better make his position quite clear right now, in order that the people may have a proper understanding of what may be expected.

So far as we have heard, Premier Aberhart has done absolutely nothing to encourage the people of Alberta to put their savings in war bonds. This is important, because Canada's war effort depends on the money it can raise. The Alberta premier and his cabinet maintain they are fully in accord with the country's war effort, but they are ominously silent when it comes to discussing war bonds.—Manna Herald.

K. G. Craig, J.P., has been elected to the Macleod board of school trustees.

THE ABERHART TAX GATHERER

The government of Alberta has published its accounts for the fiscal year to the end of last March, from which it appears that the Social Credit "Blood-Streamers" collected $24,10,000 in taxes from 789,000 "poor suffering" people.

Aberhart said in Athabasca in 1935: "If I taxed you more than Brownlee would have to take the skin off your back," implying that the Alberta taxpayers could not bear further taxation without loss of blood, yet this Blood-Streamers' charlatan has taken millions more of the taxpayers' skin in 1940 than Brownlee did in 1935!

This hypocritical sneerer of cash has proved that it is your cash he wants. He carries the bag and fills it with the farmers' gory skin, gets a nice salary and shovels out handouts to his satellites who keep him in power by religio-politico buncombe. How much longer will the people content to be hypnotized by this charlatan?—Athabasca Echo.

Three children, between 5 and 8 years, were drowned in the Elbow River near Calgary on Tuesday. The bodies have been recovered.

MOTORISTS BUILT THE ROADS

Motor car owners of Alberta contributed the huge sum of approximately $49,000,000 by way of special taxation between January 1st, 1932, and March 31st, 1939. Adding to that sum prospective receipts from gas taxes and motor licenses for the current year, it is believed that the total is sufficient to cover the entire expenditure by the provincial government over the years mentioned. This expenditure includes construction of highways, ferries and bridges, together with the expenses of departmental administration and maintenance, also interest on the money expended at five per cent. per annum.

The motor car owners of Alberta have thus actually built the highway systems out of their own pockets during the years 1922 to 1940, inclusive.

Mr. A. W. Maguire, president of the Calgary branch of the Alberta Motor Association, gave this information to the public in the course of an interview in which he voiced the opinion that all money received from gasoline taxes and motor licenses should be earmarked for the exclusive purpose of highway building and maintaining.

COVENTRY'S SCOUT HEROES

A Coventry Scout commissioner, his home wrecked by a bomb, his records scattered to the winds, managed with difficulty to get around his district. This delayed report on Scout service during the great Coventry raid finally reached London headquarters:

"Of the work done by Scouts and Rovers on the night of November 14 much will have to be written later. Acts of gallantry, unselfish, untiring service, and a spirit of cheerfulness throughout has called for the greatest admiration from all services to which the boys were attached.

"One hears of a Rover who drove an A.E.S. tender when its driver was put out of action and all reserve drivers were on duty.

"Of five patrol leaders who worked with the A.F.S. during the whole of that dreadful night, doing the work of men without thought of danger, and who were cheered by a small crowd of homeless people when they tried to save a block of houses which had been fired by incendiary bombs.

"Of a Rover who crawled into a stokehole under an A.R.P. post and put out an incendiary bomb, thus saving the building.

"Of six young Rovers who, during the whole of the raid, kept at their posts and (to use the words of the warden in charge) were worth fifty men."

"Of Rovers and senior Scouts who were on duty at an ambulance post when it was bombed, and whose cheerfulness and initiative helped to save a difficult situation.

"Of a patrol leader and a small band of Scouts who did untiring duty at a rest centre, until it was bombed and the Scouts sent with the evacuees to a shelter.

"Of Scouts who used their trek cart after the raid to move furniture from partly demolished houses, and who chalked on the side 'Smile and Work—We have been bombed, too'.

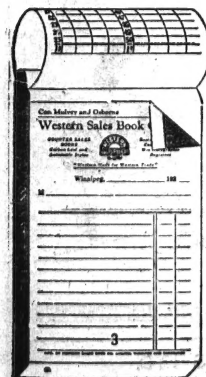

"Of Rover Tom Arnold, Troop Leader Gordon Edwards and Patrol Leader Harry Leedham, who were called to Higher Service after working frantically nearly the whole night through. Of these three fellows it has been rightfully said: 'They died, as they lived, helping others.'

"I can only add that I am proud to be a Scout amongst such wonderful fellows."

"I realize that Canada now calls on me... to join in a great National Savings Plan... necessary to win the war and vital to my own safety.

—that the gallant men of the Army, Navy and Air Force... now on the fighting front... need me on the financial front. They need munitions, material and equipment... and only by my money which represents the production of war materials can this support be secured. They are my protectors. They call on me to be their provider.

The Source Of Strength

What is behind the morale which is supporting the British people in their hour of trial? What is back of the indomitable spirit which enables them to take the tremendous blows which they sustain when they are bombed out of homes and come up again fighting? What is it, if it is not Christianity in God?

The gallant people of Great Britain, with their backs to the wall realize that they are fighting for the preservation, not only of their right to govern themselves in the way they choose, but also for the right to worship as they wish, for the right to remain Christians—the right to believe in God. They know that if they are conquered by Hitler and Nazism, they will no longer have the right even to their religious beliefs or of access to the source of the comfort which sustains them, under great difficulties and under unparalleled stress and strain.

The Sunday Express of London, about a year ago published an article by Dr. Hermann Rausing, former Nazi president of Danzig, in which he quotes Hitler as making the following declaration at a tea party, at which Rausing was present:

"The religions are all alike, no matter what they call themselves. There are no future—certainly none for the Germans... The Italians and the French are essentially heathens. Their Christianity is only skin deep. But the German is different. He is serious in everything he undertakes. He wants to be either a Christian or a heathen. He cannot be both. A German church, a German Christianity is distortion. One is either a German or a Christian. You cannot be both. We don't want people who keep one eye on the life in the hereafter. We need free men who feel and know that God is in themselves."

And a little earlier in the conversation, which occurred shortly after Hitler became Reich Chancellor, Hitler is quoted as discussing the possibility of Fascism and the Church coming to terms: "So shall I! Why not? That will not prevent us from tearing up Christianity root and branch, and annihilating it root and branch in Germany."

It was from that conversation, said Rausing, dated his inner revolution against National Socialism. "For now I began to understand its true nature and aims."

Behind The Revolve

Hitler's subsequent actions have served but to confirm in due manner his intentions to impose this doctrine, not only upon his own people but of the entire world.

Is it any wonder that the democratic, free nations of the world who believe in God and cherish the right to worship him are willing to make every sacrifice that can be conceived to prevent this monstrous concept being fastened upon them? "We don't want people who keep one eye on the life in the hereafter."

It is just this right "to keep one eye on the life in the hereafter" that is giving the people of Britain the moral and spiritual strength to stand the hard knocks they are receiving and that is fortifying them in an undying resolve never to give in.

Playing Their Part

In 250 cities and towns of bomb-wrecked Britain are displayed in the public shelters and in private homes of the people a placard, issued by the Lord Mayors of York, of Sheffield, of Hull and of Nottingham, and endorsed by the mayor of many of the cities and towns of the country, including Bristol, one of those large centres which has been severely shattered.

Entitled "Morale—How to Play Your Part" this placard says in part: "Forget yourself in helping your neighbor. In days of tension this casts out your own fears and worries. Help them to carry out all instructions about air raids, evacuation, rationing and waste."

"Keep the moral standards of the nation high—Don't weaken the home front by trying to wangle something for yourself on the quiet. Make a break with all personal indulgence, selfishness and private wars, which undermine national morale and unity. Everybody has his and her part to play in the moral re-arming of the nation."

"Be a rumor stopper—Those who love their country sacrifice the luxury of being the ones to pass on the 'news.' Any patriot shoots a rumor dead on sight. Face the facts but don't exaggerate them. Prepare to meet them bravely. For, confidence and cheerfulness are as contagious as fear, depression and grumbling."

"The secret of steadiness and inner strength is to listen to God and do what he says."

"Forearm yourself by listening to God the first thing every morning. This provides a clear plan for every day and the power to work with other people in complete unity. . . . He offers limitless reserves of energy and initiative."

"A British general who has fought through two wars says: 'Wires may be cut and wireless stations destroyed, but no bombardment can stop messages from God coming through, if we are willing to receive them. To listen to God and to obey Him is the highest national service for everybody everywhere.'"

Are we in Canada basing our sacrifice and war effort on the same foundation and are we relying on the same source of strength? It all depends upon the individual.

Bureau of Statistics Report Shows Big Increase Last Year. Values of cheques cashed by chartered banks in 32 Canadian centres was $34,437,000,000 in 1940 compared with $31,617,000,000 in 1939, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

The report said "greater economic activity" reflected in the indices of employment and the physical volume of business was responsible for the increase.

Hitler Will Meet Something When He Makes Invasion Attempts

Sir Walter Clinton, general secretary of the British Trades Union Congress, told Toronto workers at a mass meeting that "if ever there was a body of vigorous men it was that contingent which came over under General Montgomery."

He said that with British defences in their present state "Hitler will never in all his life be more cordially welcomed than if he attempts to invade England."

"We were in great danger in June," Sir Walter said, "but the United States came to our aid. It can be told now. They sent us 850,000 rifles when we did not have one for every five men."

No Extra Postage

Parcels Directed To Any Branch Of Service Without Charge

Parcels addressed to any member of the naval, land or air forces in Canada that fall to reach the addressee owing to transfer are to be redirected without further postage charges, the Canadian Legion was advised by Postmaster-General W. P. Mulock.

Decision to grant this privilege to men under arms came as a result of a letter from the legion to the postmaster-general citing an incident where heavy charges were made on a gift package that journeyed from one end of Canada to the other before it reached its destination. The legion acted on behalf of its Saskatchewan command to which the complaint from a service man was first made.

Mr. Mulock stated that instructions have now been issued that parcels addressed to men under arms must in future be redirected free of charge.

Women Of Britain Would Join The Home Guard

Dr. Edith Summerskill, Socialist M.P. for West Fulham, has again appealed to the authorities to allow women to join the Home Guard and learn to defend themselves.

"Is it conceivable that if there were an invasion the women of London, Liverpool—and of Coventry—would retire to their houses so as not to provoke the enemy?" she asked in the House of Commons. "Would they not come out, bringing their household goods, if necessary, to barricade the streets? And who will applaud them most? Their men folk."

"One has to get rid of this idea that women are weak, gentle creatures who must be protected. You may think so, but the modern enemy does not think so. Why, then, should they not also be allowed to defend themselves? You must cast aside prejudices and dismiss the 19th century conception of womanhood."

English Prisoners Challenged

Defeated Nazi Guards At Soccer By Score Of 27 To Nil

Eleven Nazi guards at a camp of English prisoners in Germany fancied themselves as footballers, and challenged the prisoners to a game of soccer.

The prisoners didn't take long to pick a team, according to the account of the match received in London.

The English were leading by 27 goals to nil when the game came to an abrupt end.

Not until then did the humbled Germans learn that their opponents were the second team of the famous Aston Villa club of Birmingham. The players had enlisted altogether during the early months of the war and were captured at Dunkirk.

Safety For Infants

A Special Warning Is Issued To Mothers By Toronto Doctor

A special warning to mothers has been issued by Dr. Alma Brown, physician-in-chief of the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children. During the past year 11 infants have died of accidental suffocation, and these deaths are due, says Dr. Brown, to the fact that mothers had not followed some of the simple rules in infant care.

Suffocation took place in most cases because the mother had rolled over on the child sleeping in her bed, or the child was allergic to feather pillows, furs or eiderdown, or had been left alone with food in his mouth.

Dr. Brown advises mothers not to let the infant sleep in bed with them, not to use pillows in the child's bed, and never to leave the bottle in the baby's mouth when he is left alone. The infant should be fed at regular intervals, and then left, safely, to sleep or play. At all times the mother must be observant and cautious concerning the child's safety.—Toronto Star.

Has Long Neck

British Columbia Clam Has Neck Three Feet Long

When Panopee generous sticks his neck out it amounts to nothing; imagine, if you please, a clam with a neck three feet long, or more. "Ridiculous?" Not so. There actually is a British Columbia clam which suffers a whole yard of pain if its neck chances to get sore. The name of the creature? Well, the scientific name has already been given, Panopee generous, but the popular name is perhaps almost as amusing as the long neck for this clam is commonly called "goody-duck," though the word is spelled "geoduck" or "geoduck."

"It's not abundant in British Columbia nor is it easy to take since it buries itself three feet or so in the sand. It is sought more for the fun of the thing than for any other reason and, indeed, in British Columbia's neighbor-state, Washington, just across the international border, there is a bag limit of three a day in geoduck hunting."—Canadian Fisheries Bulletin.

Hard To Define

Luxury Does Not Mean Same Thing To Every Person

What is a luxury? What rule guides the promotion of a seeming necessity into the higher bracket to find place among the things no longer indispensable? The matter has given rise to much discussion of late, and the diversity of expressed opinion is as wide as the ocean and almost as stormy. On examination it resolves itself largely into a revival of that age-old situation where the point of view depends upon whose box is being gored.—Ottawa Journal.

Just A Routine Job

No Record Was Sought In Fast Trip Across Atlantic

When Capt. Pat Eves of London flew an American-built bomber plane across the Atlantic in an elapsed time of seven hours, the interval between breakfast and tea, he was probably not trying for a record, but merely performing the routine job of delivering the plane to England.

This is testimony to the progress aviation has made under the forward-thrust pressure of war. Records tumble in the course of the everyday schedule. Undoubtedly Capt. Eves' 7-hour mark could be broken tomorrow if anyone had time to bother. No one will try, because it would risk a pair of good engines to push them harder than the safe cruising speed.

The military potency of a bomber that flies 1,800 miles in seven hours (although without a load of bombs) is something to think about. From London it could fly to Leningrad, Bucharest or Tripoli and back between lunch and a late supper. In the same time it could make two round trips to Berlin, or fly in a circle to Berlin to Belgrade to Rome and home again.

Modern Battles Different

Fought Over Vast Area They Cannot Be Decided Quickly

In total war, the front is everything in the range of military planes. So there is nothing to call the war the Battle of Britain. The Battle of Britain, which may go on for a year or two years, filled with incidents which would, in the older land warfare, be dignified each with its own name, but are lost now in the larger whole. Battles are no longer events like battles, held on one ground on a hot afternoon and played to a quick decision. They are fought over a vast theatre, through a period of months, and in three dimensions. It is all confusing to those of us who are unaccustomed to getting along without an index in which names like Hastings and Waterloo and Gettysburg and Manila Bay are set down in convenient rows.—Detroit News.

Beating The Stukas

Britain Has Learned How To Cripple Nazi Dive Bombers

Hitler's Stuka divers have given a somewhat disturbing show of strength in the Mediterranean, but Britain has conquered them in the past, says the Hamilton Spectator, and she resolves to do so again. Her men aboard the trawlers in the English Channel have learned how to cripple these winged furies by a method of "fire-discipline" which consists in withholding fire until the Stukas is flattening out its dive.

Urges Economy

Governments, Municipalities And Individuals Should Curtail Expenses

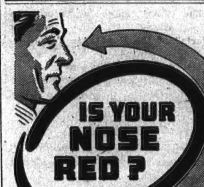

R. C. Berkinshaw, president of the Toronto board of trade, called on the governments, municipalities and individuals of Canada "to curtail non-essential expenditures as much as possible and to economize wherever practicable in those expenditures which, perhaps, may be regarded as essential."

Speaking at the board's annual dinner, he said that it was only just that Canadians, enjoying the "tragic paradox" of wartime prosperity, "should be content to bear... a greater share of the cost of conflict."

"I trust that the greater our present payment be, the better it will be for the generations to come," Mr. Berkinshaw said.

BRITAIN NEEDS ALL POSSIBLE AID TO ENSURE VICTORY

Ottawa.—Britain needs as quickly as possible every ounce of assistance that can be spared by the North American continent to ensure victory, Sir Cyril Newall, governor-general designate of New Zealand and member of the Royal Air Force told a press conference.

The distinguished airman was interviewed in Rideau hall, where he and his family are guests of the governor-general and Princess Alice. As soon as he has fully recovered from what he described as a "very good dose of Canadian flu," Sir Cyril said, he will continue his journey to New Zealand to succeed Lord Galloway.

After painting a grim picture of Britain's resolute stand against heavy odds Sir Cyril said he was "absolutely certain" the spirit or the populace would never be broken and that Britain would not be defeated.

"But unless we can get as quickly as possible everything that can be spared from this continent, our triumph may be delayed," he said.

"We need ships, planes, guns, tanks, munitions and vast numbers of highly-trained air personnel. Let us not be content with the wheels of industry run with the effects of our war effort. That is what will pull us through."

A turn in the war tide in Britain's favor could not be expected until she had gained complete mastery of the air. "No single factor would bring about victory. Rather, a successful conclusion for British arms would be realized through the combination of a number of factors."

"When the day of triumph comes, I sincerely trust we won't do the same as we did after the last war. Then we were inclined to be too lenient and too forgiving. This time we must put our heel down and put all this to the Nazi scourge for all time."

He was convinced the convoy system should be continued and expressed confidence the Royal Navy would be able to remove the German menace to British shipping. The whole course of history had been altered by the "supreme efforts" of the Royal Air Force—including a number of "super squadrons" from the Dominions—which they repelled Germany's bid for victory last fall. The entire civilized world, he said, should be indebted.

Canadian airman overseas had performed splendidly.

Sir Cyril said he was convinced the Germans made a serious attempt to invade England last September.

"We watched the heavy concentration of troop-carrying barges on the other side of the channel. I am certain invasion was their game, but no doubt the enemy felt he must first get command of the air, and there is where we whipped him. If he tries again he will get another hiding."

Nazi Chief Urges Action

Calls On German Navy To Strike Quickly At Britain

London.—Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, commander-in-chief of the German navy, urged an attack upon the "vital nerves of the British Empire, which he declared had survived only through its 'halo of invincibility,'" the British Broadcasting Corporation reported.

Assenting that British requests for United States aid presented a "miserable spectacle of open begging," Admiral Raeder in a 50-minute address exhorted German dock workers to engage the enemy "with all the strength at our command" in a thrust for victory.

"We shall constantly engage our enemy," he said. "We do not underestimate him and we know that he is tough."

"It is fighting for his life and will naturally try to escape disaster by all means—but we must win, and we shall win."

Referring to "certain difficulties" which confronted the German people, Admiral Raeder told the dock workers "your common destinies should help you bear the adversities of everyday life."

"The German navy with the same aggressive spirit it has shown up to now, will boldly and resolutely attack the vital nerves of the British Isles," he said.

Souvenirs Were Dangerous

London.—The ministry of home security disclosed that unexploded "mines," mostly collected by seamen's haulers, killed 12 persons and injured six in Britain last week.

Prepare For The Worst

Premier De Valera Finds That Euro Is In Danger

Dublin.—Premier Eamon de Valera told Euro by radio that it must "prepare for the worst" on the question of imported supplies and announced rationing of tea for the Irish.

The prime minister also said gasoline would be available only for doctors, clergymen, and essential services for the time being. Gasoline was first rationed Oct. 7, 1939.

The government announced that tea supplies to the public would be restricted to three-fourths the quantity normally sold, until a rationing system can be arranged.

It was officially suggested to retailers that they limit sales to two ounces a week for adults and one ounce for children.

He declared Euro had been in danger since the war started and would remain in danger until peace returns. He warned the nation to organize and build up defenses against possible military attack.

"The other danger now is the economic one," De Valera went on. "The belligerents in blockading each other are blockading us."

"We have not a moment to lose in preparing for the worst in regard to all those supplies that come to us from abroad. . . . It would be foolish if we prepared for anything less than the worst."

The prime minister said Euro's wheat reserves barely were enough to carry the country through until after the next harvest, and he urged substitution of potatoes for flour in Irish diets.

He warned farmers that cattle would have to be slaughtered unless they grew the fodder that formerly came from abroad.

Young people were urged to drink more milk, less tea.

Wheat Problem

Solution May Be Disclosed By The Government Soon

Ottawa.—Solution to Canada's wheat problem, one of the greatest issues facing the government on the domestic front, may be disclosed here within the next two weeks, it was reported in some well-informed circles.

These sources said the solution would not propose any measure of coercion, such as compulsory limitation of acreage, but would employ instead the principle of compromise. Specifically, it was reported the following concessions would be made to western Canada wheat growers:

1. A guaranteed price for each bushel purchased by the Dominion government of about 85 cents.

2. Agreement by the federal government to accept at this price from 250,000 to 250,000 bushels of wheat.

3. Imposition of a processing tax of 50 cents per bushel upon all flour milled in Canada for domestic consumption, the proceeds to be used to recon the government for a guaranteed price to growers.

In return for the concessions, it was understood, wheat growers in the prairie provinces were expected to agree that any crop exceeding the amount federal authorities agreed to buy, would be their own problem, and the disposal and storage of it would be their own responsibility.

Subversive Activities

U.S. Government To Take Action Against Aliens In Business

Washington.—The United States government has instituted an aggressive drive to have American firms "house clean" their Latin-American branches of all anti-American or pro-Axis personnel.

Convinced by confidential reports of widespread subversive activities in most of the 20 American republics, the state department and other vitally interested government agencies are applying "diplomatic pressure" to enlist the help of export industries in combating the situation.

The "house cleaning" campaign, it was learned, already has brought about the discharge of a number of agents and employees suspected of hostile allegiance and operations.

The state department, it was learned, has compiled a list of individuals and firms in the 20 countries, who are "suspect" either of anti-American or pro-Axis propaganda and activities, or of supplying American materials to the Axis powers.

Sent To South Africa

Cape Town.—The South African government has agreed to accommodate 20,000 Italian prisoners from the western desert campaign, in order to spare ships which would be needed to transport them to India.

BRITAIN TO SELL SECURITIES IN U.S. TO FINANCE WAR

London.—Britain has announced that she is about to tap her last, big nest egg of dollar resources in the United States—British-owned and controlled business enterprise—to buy warplanes, ships, tanks and munitions.

A treasury statement said the government had spent "a very great proportion" of its gold and was selling United States securities "steadily."

Now, it was stated, the treasury plans to get dollars to meet purchases in America from the sale of British-owned businesses in United States, and United States companies which are controlled by British shares.

A leading expert on such matters, Canadian-born Sir Edward Peacock, will arrive in the United States shortly, and he is expected to knock down such British businesses and companies to the highest bidder. The treasury statement said merely that he would "examine the possibilities" of such sales.

A treasury spokesman said he was unable to give the value of these resources because their shares are not listed on the stock exchange and "probably the owners themselves do not know what they are worth at the market."

The treasury statement said: "In the light of material already supplied and contemplated by the United States of America, it may be freely published that His Majesty's government have realized and disposed of a very great proportion of their gold holdings and are steadily realizing the American securities owned by their nationals at every opportunity."

"A more difficult problem is presented by investments such as business in United States and United States companies controlled by companies in this country whose shares are not quoted on the stock exchange."

"His Majesty's government are resolved to make the best possible use of these investments and with this end in view they have requested Sir Edward Peacock, who has great experience in such matters, to go over to the United States and examine the possibilities on the spot. Sir Edward Peacock will reach America very shortly."

Resentment In Holland

New York.—Street encounters between loyal Netherlands citizens and members of the black-shirted National Socialist band were described here by Walter R. van Londen, 18-year-old son of a San Francisco exporter, as regular features of post-invasion life in The Hague. Van Londen arrived from Spain on the Spanish liner Magallanes.

In Position To Pay

Washington.—The United States secretary of the treasury, Henry Morgenthau, told the senate foreign relations committee that he had been assured that the Canadian government had met sufficient dollar assets in sight to meet its commitments for war equipment in the United States for the balance of this year.

Six Provinces Making Guns

Program Undertaken By Canada Means Capital Outlay Of $17,538,394

Ottawa.—Big guns and other armament for the Royal Navy are being manufactured in six provinces under the program undertaken by Canada for the British, including capital outlay of $17,538,394, it was announced by the munitions and supply department.

The Royal Canadian Navy will purchase some of the production from plant extensions now in progress, the department's statement said.

The statement quoted Munitions Minister, Howe, as saying the combined annual output would run to "tens of millions of dollars." It has been reported the figure will be close to $100,000,000.

Work is being done in Alberta, British Columbia, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario.

There are to be four plants making gun barrels, two in Quebec, one in Alberta and one in British Columbia where the Dominion Bridge Company's plant in Burnaby, near Vancouver, is being reconditioned for the work at a cost of $5,000,000.

Strict Press Censorship

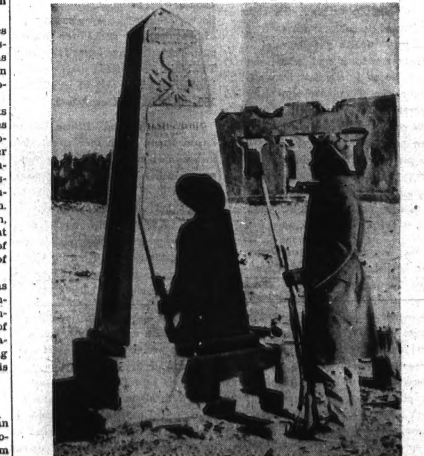

Elire Government Clamps Down On Transmission Of War News

London.—The Elire government has established a press censorship, forbidding correspondents to send out of the country uncensored reports of any event connected with the war.

Emergency powers ordered by the Elire government, it was learned, warned that "serious consequences" would follow failure to comply with the regulations.

They forbid transmission outside Elire by post, telegraph or telephone or other means, messages intended for publication and relating to any event arising out of, or connected with, the war or internal public order which happens, or is alleged to have happened, in or over the state or its territorial waters, or relating to any actual or alleged attack on the state, or to the supply of commodities in the state, without first submitting such message to any authorized persons for censorship and having it (thus) passed."

Pension For Hertzog

Former South African Premier Goes Into Retirement

London.—Gen. J. B. M. Hertzog, 74-year-old retired statesman, has been granted an annual pension of £2,000 ($5,000) by the government of the Union of South Africa, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported, quoting an announcement from Cape Town.

Gen. Hertzog resigned from parliament Dec. 12, 1940, and retired to private life. He was prime minister from 1924 to 1939 when he was succeeded by Gen. Jan Smuts.

Gen. Hertzog was the leader of the Nationalist party and before September, 1939, headed a coalition government in which Gen. Smuts and his United South African party held several portfolios.

The two leaders broke on the war issue. Gen. Hertzog wished to keep South Africa neutral; Gen. Smuts came out for an immediate declaration of war against Germany. Gen. Smuts was elected in parliament, and Gen. Hertzog went over to the opposition.

Plan To Draft Women

Many Are Needed For Work In Britain

London.—Representatives of capital and labor and the government, seeking means to accelerate Great Britain's war production, outlined a general plan to draft thousands of single women 18 years of age and older from drawing rooms, schools and servants' quarters into war factories.

Union and employer representatives agreed to the broad principles of the government's proposal in meeting with Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin, Sir Andrew Duncan, minister of supply; A. W. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty; Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production; and Oliver Lyttleton, president of the board of trade.

EARLY INVASION PLANS MAY HAVE TO BE ABANDONED

London.—A British military authority suggested that the expected early attempt of the Germans to invade Great Britain might be abandoned because of "Nazi" necessity of giving large-scale help to the Italians and the exigencies of Nazi military adventures in the Balkans.

If the Germans do in fact try the thrust across the channel, he added, they will come it to begin "before United States aid becomes too pronounced."

As to the Balkans, the informant declared that Nazi mechanics and technical troops in civil dress are preparing airfields in Bulgaria and that there are eight to 10 German divisions in Rumania.

These preparations, he added, might signal an attempted Nazi drive southwards to Salonika to isolate the Greeks and Albanians and, with a strong concentration of bombers, to attempt to close the Mediterranean to large British convoys.

Despite all this, he said that the German army, vast as it is, is spread out from Narvik to Massena and from Bristol to Bucharest and has large garrisons—for example 70 divisions in Poland—that are "in ticklish position."

This authority, surveying the military situation, said he saw it thus: The Battle of Britain: When and if the invasion comes, it probably will be accompanied by attacks on Elire for diversion, but "the real danger spot" is on the southeast coast from Wash to Southampton, where the offensive would have the support of fighter aircraft from French bases. They might land, said the spokesman, "but we will blow 'em off the beaches."

Spain: Indications are that the Spanish will not give the Germans a free passage through to attack Gibraltar and drive into North Africa. Formal opposition by the battered Spanish army might be slight. But "certain plans have been made to meet eventualities."

France: The Germans might occupy the rest of France, but should they do this "it is possible that French forces in the colonial empire, plus the fleet, would fight from outside bases."

Turkey: Will fight if the Germans move on Salonika "and we are in a position to give her considerable help." Germany: "Germany cannot afford to let her fall out of the war. As a result, German troops and aircraft are moving through Italy in considerable numbers."

ALL FREE PEOPLE SEND ANSWER TO HITLER'S SPEECH

New York.—The British Broadcasting Corporation in a German-language broadcast gave the "British people's answer" to Hitler's speech by predicting that the "free peoples of Britain and America will fight this war to the bitter end," to force the German people "to throw off the Nazis."

The broadcast heard by the Columbia Broadcasting System said:

"The fuhrer now is no longer the protector of a 'German people' against Communism, he is no longer the understanding German patriot who once asserted that when the shackles of the Versailles treaty have been broken Germany will be satisfied."

"He said: 'National Socialism has to destroy Great Britain or the National Socialist will be destroyed by Great Britain.'"

"We English completely conform with this declaration and we believe that the American people also will agree with Hitler in this point."

"But there is one thing more to say. . . . look across the Atlantic and watch how the free peoples in the new world are stirring. Look around in Europe and look how the governments of the world are preparing for that day which will liberate them from Hitler's robber order."

"Hitler is right; this war will end with collapse and a revolution on one side or on the other, and we in Great Britain make our prophecy: The free peoples of Great Britain and of America will fight this war to the bitter end, and, to use Hitler's own words, the German people will all at once find it necessary for its own interests, which is that it will be forced to throw off the Nazis."

Newspapers in New York attached little importance editorially to Hitler's speech, the Herald Tribune remarking that "what he actually said is of the least importance to anybody."

For eight years," said the Times, "he has been the sole and uncontested spokesman for Germany and to-day the worst of Germany is worthless."

Concerning his threat that all ships coming within range of Nazi torpedoes will be torpedoed the Times said, "the Herald Tribune remarks that 'what he actually said is of the least importance to anybody.'"

The Herald Tribune, summarizing the bankruptcy of eight years of Hitlerism, pointed out that although for the moment the Nazis are masters of Europe "nowhere have they achieved any stability or permanence for their great creation."
